CHELSEA

Mrs. George L. Stow spent last week in Bethel, the guest of her son, E. A. Davis, cashier of the White River bank.

Geo. H. Bacon, a former resident, now living at West Berlin, was in town last week visiting his brother, Edwin N. Bacon.

John M. Scribner of Corinth, George L. Swan of Tunbridge and his brother-in-law, Mr. Warren of Boston, were in town on business Saturday.

The ladies of the N. G. society held a largely attended promenade at the town hall Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Slack furnished music and the occasion was very enjoyable.

News have been received here of the death of Milton Denamore of Seattle, Wash., at the age of 88 years. He was a native of this town, the son of William Denamore, and is survived by a widow, one son, J. Worth Denamore, who resides in Seattle, and one brother, Jason Denamore of Lebanon, N. H. The deceased was a veteran, serving in the 12th Regiment Vermont Volunteers in Company D after the war went to Beloit, Wis., where he remained until 1871, when he went to Seattle, where he engaged in the real estate business. His death was due to a stroke of paralysis.

A young horse owned by Henry Royce, who works for Joshua Grant on the West hill, took a lively spin Friday evening, running from Azeria Barnes' to the village, fully a mile. Mr. Royce was driving to the village and when he reached the foot of the steep hill near Mr. Barnes' the breeching gave way, letting the wagon on to the colts' heels. Naturally enough, the colts being frightened, started to get out of the way of the wagon. Mr. Royce was thrown out, but not injured. His companion clung to the seat until the outskirts of the village was reached, when he climbed over the back end of the wagon and turned a few somersaults when he reached the wagon on to the colts' heels. The colts kept on to the village, taking a short turn between the old bank block and the post-office block, landing in a heap against a fence near W. P. Townsend's barn. The wagon was not damaged and with the exception of slight scratches, the colts were apparently uninjured.

A recent issue of the New York Sun contained an article concerning an investigation before the grand jury in relation to traffic matters in which District Attorney Jerome was endeavoring to solve the mysterious working of the Metropolitan Securities company in obtaining the Wall and Cortland Street Ferry company's franchise through S. Bixby, a lawyer at 52 Williams street, who acted as a trustee in the sale of the franchise to the Metropolitan company in 1902, when $2,000,000 worth of stocks and bonds passed through Mr. Bixby's hands. He was unable, however, to recollect how this was done; for whom he was a trustee or whether or not he received any remuneration for his services and stewardship. And the article stated that as a witness, the lawyer developed an astonishing lapse of memory under Mr. Jerome's examination. The item was of unusual interest to Chelsea people, since Mr. Bixby is well and favorably known here, being a nephew of the late Hiram Bixby and the present owner of the old Bixby homestead on the West hill, now occupied by G. Curtis Dana.

Sir Abbott and Wilkesdale. Sir Abbott by Abbott Wilkes, 2:11, dam Susan, 2:18 1/2, by Electioneer. Also Wilkesdale by Ondale, by Onward, dam Annie Black, 2:37, by Betatron. The above are two good colts, and good actors. We do not think that there are two better colts in the state. Stand for service at the Smith Stock Farm, South Barre, Vt., in charge of Chas. H. Gordon.

Wilkesdale was awarded first premium for three-year-old stallions at the Dominion exhibition at Sherbrooke, P. Q., last year, and Sir Abbott was awarded third premium. The Dominion government appropriated $50,000 towards this exhibition, and was one of the largest exhibitions of thoroughbred stock in America. Phone 221-3.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Here is Barre testimony to prove it. Mrs. Frank Jones of 100 South Main street, Barre, Vt., says: "About five years ago I had such severe pains in my back that I could hardly get around the house. If I arose quickly after stooping I had spells of dizziness and dark spots before my eyes, while at night it was almost impossible for me to sleep. One day when my back ached so severely that I had to go around in a stooped position I was advised to get Doan's Kidney Pills at E. A. Drown's drug store. I procured a supply and commenced taking the remedy. In a few days I knew I was being benefited, for my back became stronger and better. I continued taking Doan's Kidney Pills until the pains in my back disappeared. I had no more dizziness since then, when I have overworked or taken cold, there have been recurrences of the trouble in a mild form. I have then taken a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to relieve me.

CANNON YIELDS ON PAPER

House Republicans to Discuss Tariff.

CONG. WILLIAMS VIEWS

Norris Tells How the Trust Fixed the Prices—Investigation a Measure of Delay, Williams Declares.

Washington, April 28.—As a result of the representations of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, Speaker Cannon has agreed that the subject of the removal of the duty on wood pulp and the price of print paper in the United States shall be discussed at the caucus of the Republicans to be held this week, provided a reasonable number of Republican members make a request to that effect.

When the investigating committee resumed its hearing earlier in the day John Norris, representing the paper publishers' association, again took the witness chair and read a number of statements made at the meetings of the publishers in September, 1907, to show the determination of the paper makers to raise prices.

One of these statements, by Editor Haynes of the Paterson News, set forth that a director of the International Paper company, "after he had a few drinks in him," had declared that they were going to check up the price of paper to $3 a hundred.

Mr. Norris then submitted a list of 202 newspapers to which the price of paper had been raised. The list showed that these increases ranged from $2 to $17 a ton in the last two years.

HOUSE FILIBUSTER CONTINUES.

Williams Resumes Demand For Legislation.

Washington, April 28.—In a speech in the House yesterday morning Senator Williams said that the Democratic filibuster would continue until the House decided to consider the campaign publicity bill, a bill putting print paper on the free list and the anti-injunction bill.

SAY SPEAKER HOLDS UP ANTI-GAMBLING BILL.

Friends of Measure Fear It Will Be Lost in Final Rush.

Washington, April 28.—It is possible that Congress will adjourn without putting a stop to race track gambling at Seneca. The friends of the anti-gambling measure are much wrought up over it, and are blaming Speaker Cannon.

The bill to widen Benning road with the Sima amendment was passed by both houses, but the Senate made certain amendments that sent the bill back to the House. It lies on the speaker's desk awaiting House concurrence. The speaker has not yet allowed it to come up, and the opponents of gambling are clamoring against further delay, and fearful lest in the rush of ending the session it may be lost sight of.

THE DEMOCRATIC VIEW.

How Mr. Williams Regards The Print Paper Investigation.

Washington, April 28.—The House yesterday was given the Democratic view of the wood pulp controversy by Mr. Williams, the minority leader. The special investigating committee, in a resolution brought in for passage by Mr. Carrier of New Hampshire, asked authority to spend the necessary money to carry on its work. Debate of 20 minutes on a side was granted and Mr. Williams was given the floor. He at once asserted that Democrats agreed that the special committee had been created for the purpose of delay; that it was "a filibustering and dilatory process in order to prevent legislative action to produce relief."

Quick relief, Mr. Williams said, could be had by bringing in a bill abolishing the tariff on news print, paper and wood pulp and asking that it go through under suspension of the rules. After saying that there was no Democratic objection to giving the committee the necessary money to prosecute the investigation, Mr. Williams read the resolution, agreed to at the annual meeting of the Associated Press, on April 21, last, urging Congress to action.

Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania followed with two editorials approving the investigation by Congress. Mr. Kusterman of Wisconsin, who said his district contained many wood pulp factories, pictured the lack of profit in that industry and urged that nothing be done pending a thorough investigation. Six years ago, he said, he had invested $9,000 in a wood pulp factory and it had made for him but one and a half per cent, per year.
